This Kit is For You!

So you are about to leave school and enter a new chapter in your life. As a young Deaf or hard of hearing person, perhaps you have some questions that have still not been answered. Questions like, “Where should I go for a college or university education? How can I find a Deaf sports club and meet others who share my love of sports? And where do I find an ASL-English interpreter for my job interview?” There are other questions that you probably have not thought about yet -- and there are answers that are important for you to know!

This kit is meant for you! It is designed to put information at your fingertips so to assist you as you take the first steps into this new chapter in your life. The information contained in this kit will help you find your place in the world and help you find your place in the community of your choosing!

This High School Graduate Information Kit is a gift to you in the hope that you will find it very useful. We all sometimes make wrong turns in our lives, but we earnestly hope that this Kit will guide you in finding turns you can make that lead to better information, better choices, and better decisions as you prepare to leave school and go on your life’s journey!

Ontario Government Financial Assistance for Post-Secondary Students

The Government of Ontario offers the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP) to help students pay the cost of getting a post-secondary education. For information about the Ontario Student Assistance Program, visit at:

<http://www.ontario.ca/education-and-training/how-get-osap>

There are three ways to get money to pay for the cost of your post-secondary education:

LOAN

OSAP is a loan that a student can apply for in order to cover the cost of tuition fees, books, rent etc., while attending a post-secondary program. Six months after finishing their studies, the student will begin monthly payments to pay back what they borrowed, or apply for repayment assistance. For information, visit OSAP Website: <https://osap.gov.on.ca/OSAPPortal>

GRANT

The Ontario Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities offer grants for students enrolled in Post-Secondary Education. A grant is a type of financial support that a student typically does not have to pay back. A grant is usually awarded based on financial need and/or other factors. For further information, see the OSAP AID PROGRAMS below.

BURSARY

The Government of Ontario also offers bursaries for students. A bursary is a type of financial assistance that a student typically does not have to pay back. Bursaries are to help students with their financial needs during their schooling.

Another type of bursary is for students with a disability, called the Bursary for Students with Disabilities (BSWD). The BSWD is for students who need support or accommodations (at a cost) such as tutors, note-takers, interpreters, brailers or technical aids that are directly related to their disability. For information, visit BSWD Website:

General Information: When You Start a New Job

Why Your TD1 Forms are Important

When you start a new job your employer will give you two different TD1 forms to fill out and sign. One is from the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA). Another is for calculating your Ontario income taxes.

If you do not claim the disability amount on the TD1 and TD1ON Forms, here is what happens. Your employer will follow your signed forms and make deductions from your pay as you can see below.

Gross wages ($14.00 x 40 hours a week)	$560.00
--	-----------------

Deductions:

Canada Pension Plan	-25.20
---------------------	--------

Employment Insurance	-10.53
----------------------	--------

Income Tax – Federal	-84.00
----------------------	--------

Income Tax – Ontario	-28.28
----------------------	--------

Net (take-home) wages	$411.99
------------------------------	-----------------

If you do claim the disability amount, you will get more take-home pay. The difference is $54.20 each week, or a total of $2,818.40 in one year.

Gross wages ($14.00 x 40 hours a week)	$560.00
--	-----------------

Deductions:

Canada Pension Plan	-25.20
---------------------	--------

Employment Insurance	-10.53
----------------------	--------

Income Tax – Federal	-61.60
----------------------	--------

Income Tax – Ontario	-16.48
----------------------	--------

Net (take-home) wages	$466.19
------------------------------	-----------------

Note: The deductions are based on the payroll deductions tables provided by the Canada Revenue Agency, effective as of January 1, 2018.

General Information: When You Start a New Job

Instructions to Complete a TD1 Form:

TD1 (CRA): Be sure to claim (use) the disability amount by filling in $8,235 on line 6. If you are also enrolled in a Post-Secondary program at the time you fill out these forms, you would also fill out line 5. Then add up the amounts and fill in the total in the blank box at the line 13. Sign on the next page.

TD1 - 2018 Personal Tax Credit Return Form

Canada Revenue Agency / Agence du revenu du Canada		2018 Personal Tax Credits Return		Protected B when completed
Read page 2 before filling out this form. Your employer or payer will use this form to determine the amount of your tax deductions. Fill out this form based on the best estimate of your circumstances.
Last name	First name and initials	Date of birth (YYYYMMDD)	Employee number
Address	Postal code	Country of permanent residence	Social insurance number
1. Basic personal amount – Every resident of Canada can claim this amount. If you will have more than one employer or payer at the same time in 2018, see "More than one employer or payer at the same time" on page 2. If you are a non-resident, see "Non-residents" on page 2.				11,809
2. Canada caregiver amount for infirm children under age 18 – Either parent (but not both), may claim $2,182 for each infirm child born in 2001 or later, that resides with both parents throughout the year. If the child does not reside with both parents throughout the year, the parent who is entitled to claim the "Amount for an eligible dependent" on line 6 may also claim the Canada caregiver amount for that same child who is under age 18.
3. Age amount – If you will be 65 or older on December 31, 2018, and your net income for the year from all sources will be $36,976 or less, enter $7,333. If your net income for the year will be between $36,976 and $85,863 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get Form TD1-WS, Worksheet for the 2018 Personal Tax Credits Return, and fill in the appropriate section.
4. Pension income amount – If you will receive regular pension payments from a pension plan or fund (excluding Canada Pension Plan, Quebec Pension Plan, Old Age Security, or Guaranteed Income Supplement payments), enter $2,000 or your estimated annual pension income, whichever is less.
5. Tuition (full time and part time) – If you are a student enrolled at a university or college, or an educational institution certified by Employment and Social Development Canada, and you will pay more than $100 per institution in tuition fees, fill in this section. If you are enrolled full time or part time, enter the total of the tuition fees you will pay.
6. Disability amount – If you will claim the disability amount on your income tax return by using Form T2201, Disability Tax Credit Certificate, enter $8,235.				8,235
7. Spouse or common-law partner amount – If you are supporting your spouse or common-law partner who lives with you and whose net income for the year will be less than $11,809 ($13,991 if he or she is infirm), enter the difference between this amount and his or her estimated net income for the year. If his or her net income for the year will be $11,809 or more ($13,991 or more if he or she is infirm), you cannot claim this amount. In all cases, if his or her net income for the year will be $23,391 or less and he or she is infirm and is age 18 or older, go to line 9.
8. Amount for an eligible dependent – If you do not have a spouse or common-law partner and you support a dependent relative who lives with you and whose net income for the year will be less than $11,809 ($13,991 if he or she is infirm) and you cannot claim the Canada caregiver amount for children under age 18 for this dependent, enter the difference between this amount and his or her estimated net income. If his or her net income for the year will be $11,809 or more ($13,991 or more if he or she is infirm), you cannot claim this amount. In all cases, if his or her net income for the year will be $23,391 or less and he or she is infirm and is age 18 or older, go to line 9.
9. Canada caregiver amount for eligible dependent or spouse or common-law partner – If, at any time in the year, you support an infirm eligible dependent (aged 18 or older) or an infirm spouse or common-law partner whose net income for the year will be $23,391 or less, get Form TD1-WS and fill in the appropriate section.
10. Canada caregiver amount for dependent(s) age 18 or older – If, at any time in the year, you support an infirm dependent age 18 or older (other than the spouse or common-law partner or eligible dependent you claimed an amount for on line 8, or could have claimed an amount for if his or her net income were under $13,991) whose net income for the year will be $16,405 or less, enter $4,386. If his or her net income for the year will be between $16,405 and $23,391 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get Form TD1-WS and fill in the appropriate section. You can claim this amount for more than one infirm dependent age 18 or older. If you are sharing this amount with another caregiver who supports the same dependent, get the Form TD1-WS and fill in the appropriate section.
11. Amounts transferred from your spouse or common-law partner – If your spouse or common-law partner will not use all of his or her age amount, pension income amount, tuition amount, or disability amount on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount.
12. Amounts transferred from a dependent – If your dependent will not use all of his or her disability amount on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount. If your or your spouse's or common-law partner's dependent child or grandchild will not use all of his or her tuition amount on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount.
13. TOTAL CLAIM AMOUNT – Add lines 1 to 12. Your employer or payer will use this amount to determine the amount of your tax deductions.

Filling out Form TD1
Fill out this form only if:
• you have a new employer or payer and you will receive salary, wages, commissions, pensions, employment insurance benefits, or any other remuneration;
• you want to change amounts you previously claimed (for example, the number of your eligible dependants has changed);
• you want to claim the deduction for living in a prescribed zone; or
• you want to increase the amount of tax deducted at source.

Sign and date it, and give it to your employer or payer.
If you do not fill out Form TD1, your employer or payer will deduct taxes after allowing the basic personal amount only.

More than one employer or payer at the same time
☐ If you have more than one employer or payer at the same time and you have already claimed personal tax credit amounts on another Form TD1 for 2018, you cannot claim them again. If your total income from all sources will be more than the personal tax credits you claimed on another Form TD1, check this box, enter "Y" on line 13 and do not fill in lines 2 to 12.

Total income less than total claim amount
☐ Check this box if your total income for the year from all employers and payers will be less than your total claim amount on line 13. Your employer or payer will not deduct tax from your earnings.

Non-residents (Only fill in if you are a non-resident of Canada.)
As a non-resident of Canada, will 90% or more of your world income be included in determining your taxable income earned in Canada in 2018?
☐ Yes (Fill out the previous pages.)
☐ No (Enter "N" on line 13, and do not fill in lines 2 to 12 as you are not entitled to the personal tax credits.)
If you are unsure of your residency status, call the international tax and non-resident enquiries line at 1-800-959-8281.

Provincial or territorial personal tax credits return
If your claim amount on line 13 is more than $11,809, you also have to fill out a provincial or territorial TD1 form. If you are an employee, use the Form TD1 for your province or territory of employment. If you are a pensioner, use the Form TD1 for your province or territory of residence. Your employer or payer will use both this federal form and your most recent provincial or territorial Form TD1 to determine the amount of your tax deductions.
If you are claiming the basic personal amount only (your claim amount on line 13 is $11,809), your employer or payer will deduct provincial or territorial taxes after allowing the provincial or territorial basic personal amount.
Note: If you are a Saskatchewan resident supporting children under 18 at any time during 2018, you may be able to claim the child amount on Form TD1SK, 2018 Saskatchewan Personal Tax Credits Return. Therefore, you may want to fill out Form TD1SK even if you are only claiming the basic personal amount on this form.

Deduction for living in a prescribed zone
If you live in the Northwest Territories, Nunavut, Yukon, or another prescribed northern zone for more than six months in a row beginning or ending in 2018, you can claim:
• $11.00 for each day that you live in the prescribed northern zone; or
• $22.00 for each day that you live in the prescribed northern zone if, during that time, you live in a dwelling that you maintain, and you are the only person living in that dwelling who is claiming this deduction.
Employees living in a prescribed intermediate zone can claim 50% of the total of the above amounts.
For more information, go to canada.ca/taxes-northern-residents.

Additional tax to be deducted
You may want to have more tax deducted from each payment, especially if you receive other income, including non-employment income such as CPP or OCPP benefits, or old age security pension. By doing this, you may not have to pay as much tax when you file your income tax return. To choose this option, state the amount of additional tax you want to have deducted from each payment. To change this deduction later, fill out a new Form TD1.

Reduction in tax deductions
You can ask to have less tax deducted on your income tax return if you are eligible for deductions or non-refundable tax credits that are not listed on this form (for example, periodic contributions to a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP), child care or employment expenses, charitable donations, and tuition and education amounts carried forward from the previous year). To make this request, fill out Form TD113, Request to Reduce Tax Deductions at Source, to get a letter of authority from your tax services office. Give the letter of authority to your employer or payer. You do not need a letter of authority if your employer deducts RRSP contributions from your salary.

☐ Check this box if your total income for the year from all employers and payers will be less than your total claim amount on line 10.
Your employer or payer will not deduct tax from your earnings.

Additional tax to be deducted
If you wish to have more tax deducted, fill in "Additional tax to be deducted" on the federal Form TD1.

Reduction in tax deductions
You can ask to have less tax deducted on your income tax return if you are eligible for deductions or non-refundable tax credits that are not listed on this form (for example, periodic contributions to a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP), child care or employment expenses, charitable donations, and tuition and education amounts carried forward from the previous year). To make this request, fill out Form T1213, Request to Reduce Tax Deductions at Source, to get a letter of authority from your tax services office. Give the letter of authority to your employer or payer. You do not need a letter of authority if your employer deducts RRSP contributions from your salary.

General Information: When You Start a New Job

Information: What is a Disability Tax Credit Certificate?

The Federal Government and the Ontario Government provide the disability tax credit to people with disabilities because, the governments recognize that people with a disability generally earn less from employment than most people. However, you cannot claim the disability amount IF you do not have the Disability Tax Credit Certificate from your doctor.

General Information: When You Start a New Job

Information: Employment Standards Act (ESA)

The Employment Standards Act is the law that protects your employment rights. When starting a new job, there is very important information that you should know about your employment rights:

Minimum wages

The general minimum wage has increased to $14.00 per hour in January 1, 2018. By law employers cannot pay you wages less than this minimum wage rate.

Overtime pay

Law requires employers to pay overtime of 1 ½ times the employee's regular rate of pay over 44 hours of work a week. For example, if you have worked 48 hours, here is how your overtime pay is calculated, assuming your regular rate is $14.00 per hour:

To calculate the number of overtime:

$$\begin{array}{r} 48 \text{ Hours you worked in a week} \\ - 44 \text{ Hours at your regular hourly rate of $14.00} \\ \hline 4 \text{ Hours overtime} \end{array}$$

To calculate overtime pay: $$14.00 \times 1.5 = $21.00 \times 4 \text{ hours} = \84.00

To calculate the total wages you earned for 48 hours in one week:

Regular wages	$560.00
Overtime wages	$84.00
Total wages	$644.00

2 Minimum Weeks Vacation

After one year of employment you are entitled to a minimum of two paid weeks of vacation.

4% Vacation Pay

Once a year, you must be paid vacation pay equal to 4% of your gross wages earned in 12 months. For example, if your earnings total $29,000 after one year of employment, you will receive the vacation pay of $1,160 ($$29,000 \times .04$).

General Information: When You Start a New Job

Notice of Termination

If the employer decides to terminate (end) your employment, the law requires the employer to inform you of your job termination some time before your last day of employment:

- If you have worked three months or more, but less than one year of work, one week notice must be given
- If you have worked one year or more, but less than three years of work, two weeks' notice must be given
- After three years of work, one week's notice must be given for each year worked, to a maximum of eight weeks.

There are many other questions about employment rights. To learn more, visit this web page, "What Young Workers Should Know" and keep yourself up to date at:

http://www.labour.gov.on.ca/english/es/pubs/factsheets/fs_young.php

Joint Health and Safety Committees (JHSC)

The Ontario Health and Safety Act (OHSA) and regulations require JHS at workplaces with 20 or more employees in Ontario. The main responsibility of a joint health and safety committee is the health and safety conditions for all employees in the workplace. It is composed of worker and employer representatives.

In a workplace, a JHS advises employees and employers about workplace hazards; getting information from the employer relating to health and safety; setting up and promoting programs to improve employee training and education; making recommendations to improve workplace health and safety; and monitoring effectiveness of safety programs and procedures.

Committee members should be available to receive worker concerns, complaints, and suggestions; to discuss issues and recommend solutions; and to provide feedback on existing and proposed workplace health and safety programs.

Before asking your employer for flashing alarm lights (alert devices), a buddy system, or an ASL-English interpreter at employee training sessions on workplace health and safety, first find out who represents the employees on the JHSC at your workplace and then inform him or her about your request. Ask them for their assistance in making the workplace a healthy and safe work environment for you.

Employment: Why having a job is better than having no job

Information: A job can make a big difference in quality of life that you would like to have.

If you have a minimum-wage job, you will get $9,389.88 more than from ODSP in a year ($23,201.88 – 13,812.00). At the end of five years, you will make $46,949.40 more than from ODSP ($9,389.88 x 5). Take a few minutes to look at the table below. Obviously, it will be to your great benefit to have a job, and earn money so that you can afford to buy a car, a house, or go on a trip.

	Job*	ODSP
Gross wages ($14.00 x 40 hours a week)	$560.00
Deductions: Canada Pension Plan	-25.20
Employment Insurance	-10.53
Income Tax - Federal	-61.60
Income tax - Ontario	-16.48
Net (take-home) wages	$446.19
Month total: take-home pay ($446.19 x 4 weeks)	$1,784.76
Annual total: take-home pay ($446.19 x 52 weeks)	$23,201.88
Annual total: ($1,151 x 12 months)		$13,812.00
Income difference: ($23,201.88 - $13,812.00)	$9,389.88

* If the disability amount is claimed on the Form TD1 Personal Tax Credits Return. The source of the payroll deductions is Canada Revenue Agency's payroll deduction tables.

Information: Income you earn will decide your health condition later in life.

The Second Report on the Health of Canadians says:

Only 47% of Canadians in the lowest income group say their health is very good or excellent, compared with 73% of Canadians in the highest income group

The higher the income means the less sickness, longer life expectancies and improved health

Low-income Canadians are more likely to die earlier and to suffer more illnesses than Canadians with higher incomes

Part of the reason why your health can be influenced by income you earn is ability to afford good, balanced and nutritious food that your body needs. Having a good job is an important key to having good health in your life.

COMMUNITY RESOURCES

“We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give”

-- Winston Churchill

Community Resources

Information: Accessibility Standards (AODA)

The goal of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act is to make businesses, organizations and communities more accessible to people with disabilities.

This law is meant to eliminate barriers that might prevent you from fully participating in key areas of society and improve information accessibility for people with disabilities. Business, organizations and communities are now in the process of making changes to work with the various requirements of the AODA.

To learn what you can expect from the AODA as a Deaf or hard of hearing consumer, read below the general outline of what the AODA requires businesses, organizations and communities to undertake:

Customer Service:

- create an accessible customer service plan that:
 - considers a person's disability when communicating with them
 - allows service animals
 - welcomes support persons
 - lets customers know when accessible services are not available
 - invites customers to provide feedback

Website: <https://www.ontario.ca/page/accessible-customer-service-policy>

Employment:

- let job applicants know that recruitment and hiring processes will be modified to accommodate their disabilities, if requested
- build the accessibility needs of employees into their human resources practices
- create a written process (not applicable to small organizations) for developing and documenting individual accommodation plans for employees with disabilities
- help employees stay safe in an emergency by providing them with individualized emergency response information when necessary.

Website: <http://www.mcass.gov.on.ca/en/mcass/programs/accessibility/employment/index.aspx>

Community Resources

Information and Communications:

- make their websites and web content accessible
- provide accessible formats and communications supports as quickly as possible and at no additional cost when a person with a disability asks for them
- make public emergency information accessible when requested
- provide educational and training resources and materials in accessible formats upon request

Website: <https://www.ontario.ca/page/how-make-information-accessible>

Transportation:

- must make information on accessibility equipment and features of their vehicles, routes and services available to the public
- cannot charge a fare to a support person, when the person with a disability requires a support person to accompany them on the conventional or specialized transportation service
- provide verbal and visual announcements of routes and stops on vehicles

Information: Assistive Devices Program (ADP)

The Assistive Devices Program provides consumer-centered support and funding to Ontario residents who have long-term physical disabilities. Also ADP provides access to personalized, assistive devices which meet individuals' basic needs.

As a Deaf person you will pay only part for the cost of equipment and/or supplies such as TTY, flashing alarm, and other assistive devices. The ADP program will cover most of the cost.

These are examples of what you can qualify to get under the ADP program: TTY, Door Alarm, Fire Alarm, Wake Alarm Clock, and Hearing Aids.

Information: Bell Relay Service (BRS) and IP Relay Service

Bell Relay Service (BRS) supports communication by phone and TTY (teletypewriter), between non-deaf (hearing) people and Deaf, deafened, hard-of-hearing, or those with speech disabilities. Bell Relay operators are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. There is no charge for using the Bell Relay service to place local calls. Long distance calls are billed to the number you are calling from, with a discount of 86% on calls made within Canada.

Bell IP Relay is a new form of relay service in Canada. It uses an online chat application instead of a TTY, which connects to an operator who will then place a phone call to the number you want to reach.

Common TTY abbreviations are:

ANS - answer
BRS - Bell Relay service
GA - go ahead
GA OR SK - go ahead if you have more to say but I'm finished
GA TO SK - go ahead to stop keying or goodbye
HD - hold
HOH or HH - hard of hearing
IP RELAY - Internet Protocol Relay service
OPR - operator
SK - stop keying (end of call)
SKSK - hanging up
TERP - interpreter
VCO - Voice Carry Over (relay service)
VRS - Video Relay service

SRV CANADA VRS HAS LAUNCHED!

Video Relay Service (VRS) enables Deaf or Hard of Hearing people to connect with voice telephone users via video over the Internet. VRS calls occur with the help of Video interpreters (VIs) who interpret the conversation back and forth between callers using sign language with the VRS user, and voice with the called party. VRS is accessed from smartphones, tablets, laptops, and computers, and empowers Deaf or Hard of Hearing people to communicate with anyone they choose.

SRV Canada VRS is designed, implemented and overseen by the expert staff and board members of Canadian Administrator of Video Relay Service (CAV). CAV is a not-for-profit corporation with a single-minded mission to deliver the highest quality VRS service for all Canadians.

SRV Canada VRS is open 24 / 7/ 365

Canadian Hearing Society – Interpreting Services

Interpreting Services at the Canadian Hearing Society (CHS) provides American Sign Language (ASL) - English interpreting and Deaf Interpreters services across Ontario, and la langue des signes québécoise (LSQ) – French interpreting and ASL-LSQ interpreting services in some regions of Ontario.

- CHS interpreters are internally screened for quality skills, insured, and are cleared with criminal record check, vulnerable sector check, and supported through ongoing professional development activities.
- When on-site interpreting is not available, Video Relay Interpreting Services (VRI) services may be an option. VRI enables Deaf and hearing people in the same room to communicate through an interpreter who is located off-site via video conferencing technology. Trained CHS interpreters provide service from private and secure individual sites.
- You can ask CHS for the interpreter you prefer only during non-emergency request. CHS will try its best to fill your request. However, due to an interpreter shortage it may not always be able to provide interpreters

How to Contact CHS for an interpreter:

Community Resources—Interpreting and Notetaking Services

Deaf Access Simcoe Muskoka (DASM)

Deaf Access Simcoe Muskoka provides ASL—English Interpreting and Computerized Notetaking services for those living and vacationing in Simcoe County and Muskoka (including Bradford, Barrie, Orillia, Collingwood, Midland, Gravenhurst, Bracebridge and Huntsville)

ASL Interpreting for Medical and Mental Health Care

Deaf Access provides ASL interpreters for hospitals, medical clinics and in-home care throughout Simcoe County and Muskoka. Our interpreters are skilled in medical terminology for communication, ensuring that the patient and medical staff receive clear, professional and confidential exchange of information. With the dignity and comfort of the patient a priority, we provide options such as male/female interpreter selections, and interpreter consistency for ongoing care. Interpreters are available to communicate with patients with all levels of medical needs from ER/Triage requests to surgeries/procedures, labour & delivery, assessments and counselling.

ASL Interpreting for Businesses and Community

Deaf Access provides interpreters for all types of businesses, government services and community groups. We have skilled interpreters that are able to accurately interpret every level of communication within the workplace, from internal meetings and training to interactions with consumers. We provide local municipalities with access to skilled interpreting services for elections, committee meetings, community events, and recreational services to further accessibility and inclusion of deaf and hard of hearing members in our communities.

ASL Interpreting for Educational Settings

Deaf Access works closely with local colleges, universities and other continuing education programs to provide ASL-English Interpreting in the educational environment. This may include, but is not limited to; classrooms, lecture halls, labs, tutoring or counseling sessions, club or group meetings, co-operative education placements, or at events on campus. The interpreters facilitate communication through the use of sign language, spoken or written English, cultural mediation and knowledge about visual accessibility.

Conference and Convention ASL Interpreting

Deaf Access provides skilled interpreters for conferences and conventions taking place throughout Simcoe County and Muskoka. We understand that conferences and conventions may vary in length, number of participants and complexity, and work to provide efficient options for setup of interpreter teams. From business conferences to club conventions, we have the experience needed to coordinate and prepare interpreters or teams of interpreters to effectively provide services over multiple days and/or locations.

Emergency ASL Interpreting Services

An emergency is defined as: A sudden and unforeseen crisis that requires immediate attention.

Examples of emergencies include:

- Hospital emergency visits
- After-hours urgent medical clinic visits
- Crisis centre visits
- Shelter admissions
- Police, fire or ambulance personnel interactions
- Child welfare occurrences

Community Resources - Information About Interpreters and Their Qualifications

Information:

There are a few important things you need to know about interpreters and their qualifications.

The interpreting profession is not regulated (licensed by the government) in Ontario. This means anyone can work as an ASL-English interpreter, an LSQ-French interpreter, or a Deaf Interpreter. No one can stop them from working.

ASL-English and LSQ-French Interpreters

The role of the interpreter is to interpret between people who use a signed language and a spoken language. It is important to understand that professional ASL-English and LSQ-French interpreters are required to follow the highest standards of ethnics. This means that interpreters should recognize their level of knowledge and skills and not accept work beyond their ability to interpret. As well, it requires interpreters to keep in complete confidence what is said between Deaf people and others.

Deaf Interpreters (DI)

Deaf Interpreters are specialists in a signed language (ASL and/or LSQ) and in accommodating the language and communication needs of Deaf people. They often work together with hearing interpreters as an interpreting team to provide complete and accurate information both to Deaf and hearing people. Deaf interpreters can become members of AVLIC by providing documentation verifying their work experience as a Deaf Interpreter.

The Association of Visual Language Interpreters of Canada (AVLIC)

This professional organization is the only national certifying body for ASL-English interpreters in Canada. Those who are successful receive a Certificate of Interpretation (COI) and have “COI” printed on the back of their AVLIC membership cards. Currently, AVLIC does not certify Deaf Interpreters or LSQ-French interpreters.

All interpreters who are active members of AVLIC must follow the Code of Ethics and Guidelines for Professional Conduct. AVLIC provides information in ASL that explains the Code of Ethics. To view this information, visit <http://www.avlic.ca/ethics-and-guidelines>.

Community Resources - Information About Interpreters and Their Qualifications

Ontario Interpreting Services (OIS)

OIS is the main provider of community interpreting services in Ontario. All OIS registered interpreters are required to follow the AVLIC guidelines and code of ethics.

For an ASL-English interpreter to be registered with OIS, they must be an active member of AVLIC and pass the skill screening process and the Knowledge and Attitude Interview.

For a Deaf Interpreter to be registered with OIS, they must pass the OIS Deaf Interpreter (DI) Video Skills Screening.

Finding the right interpreter for you!

Ask the interpreter about their qualifications. Are they AVLIC members? Are they AVLIC certified? Have they graduated from an interpreting program? Are they registered with an interpreting agency that has worked with the Deaf community to establish their screening process?

Ask the interpreter about their experience in the setting you need them to interpret in. Not every interpreter has the skills and knowledge to interpret for every assignment, e.g., some interpreters are comfortable to interpret at medical or police services appointments but some interpreters are not comfortable to interpret at a funeral service or political meeting.

For more information, the Ontario Association of Sign Language Interpreters (OASLI) offers the video series in ASL on the different topics of ASL-English interpreting such as:

Community Resources- What You Need to Know before Using a Freelance Interpreter

Information:

You can book freelance interpreters directly. A freelance interpreter is someone who works independently as an interpreter. If you have worked with an interpreter in the past that you prefer to work with again, you can contact them directly.

However, there are questions that you should ask before you book a freelance interpreter.

1. Who will be able to pay for interpreting services?

Not all organizations or agencies or individuals are able to pay for interpreting services; sometimes they may refuse. First find out who will pay the freelance interpreter you want to book.

When booking the interpreter, ask how much she or he charges for the service. In Ontario, market rates are between $40 to $75 per hour plus reasonable travel costs. Normally, the preparation time to interpret before an assignment is included in their rates.

However, if the freelance interpreter charges a fee above these normal rates (in excess), there may be two things to ask about this.

2. Is the rate that your freelance interpreter charges reasonable?

First, above market rates make many businesses and organizations not interested in having to interact with Deaf people. For example, Deaf people may not be hired, because employers find the cost of interpreting services very expensive. This hurts every Deaf person as they lose opportunities to prove themselves in businesses and organizations.

If you use interpreters who charge reasonable rates, this will help protect the public image of the Deaf community and also interpreters who charge fair, reasonable rates.

Second, fees above normal market rates may be appropriate and reasonable if the work requires a high level of knowledge and skill. Only a few highly skilled ASL-English interpreters should charge above the normal, market rates.

Community Resources - What You Need to Know before Using a Freelance Interpreter

3. What is the result of poor interpreting?

Many people say they can interpret but they do not have good enough knowledge or skills. Interpreters can wrongly interpret what you or hearing people say without you knowing it. If interpreters inaccurately interpret what you, or your doctor, or lawyer says, this can hurt you or cause problems for you.

4. If you have a problem with a freelance interpreter, how do you resolve it?

Discuss the problem with the interpreter and try to resolve it.

If the problem is not resolved, you may decide to not work with the interpreter again. Tell the person who hired the interpreter that you will not work with that interpreter again and explain why.

If you feel the problem is because the interpreter did not follow the AVLIC Code of Ethics and Guidelines for Professional Conduct and if the interpreter is a member of AVLIC/OASLI or SLINC, AVLIC has a Dispute Resolution Process (DRP) that may help you and the interpreter resolve the ethical concern. Go to www.avlic.ca/dispute-resolution and look for the ASL version at the bottom of the webpage for more information.

5. How can I know if an interpreter is a member of AVLIC or OASLI/SLINC?

DEAF CULTURE CENTRE

Canadian Cultural Society of the Deaf

A registered non-profit charitable organization, the Canadian Cultural Society of the Deaf (CCSD) incorporated in 1973, preserves, encourages and advances the arts and culture of Canada's Deaf population, featuring performing and visual arts, media arts and literature reflecting Deaf heritage.

The DEAF CULTURE CENTRE, a project of CCSD, provides a forum to celebrate Deaf life through the arts. It opened in the Distillery District in Toronto in 2006, featuring a museum, art gallery, gift shop, archives, and multimedia production. Open to the public and rooted in the Deaf community, it provides education, culture, visual and performing arts. The CENTRE hosts over 15,000 visitors and mentors over 90 students and interns annually, provides school tours and promotes Deaf artists of all ages through annual art exhibits, award winning multimedia DVDs, website productions and book publications.

The DEAF CULTURE CENTRE now has a fine teashop, Def-T Shop & Gallery, within the gallery. Def-T products and services have been carefully created to combine a mix between the experience of tea and the experience of Deaf Culture. This teashop provides opportunities for job growth and entrepreneurship across Canada.

The Defty Youth Award for Excellence in the Arts, is designed to provide opportunities for young Canadian Deaf performing artists to achieve excellence in the arts, and to celebrate young Deaf artist achievements and feature them nationally. Our new juried Defty Youth Awards project is the only national opportunity to promote and encourage young deaf artists (ages 16-34). We wish now to focus on youth in the next three years to strengthen the next Deaf generation, because so many youths are mainstreamed without Deaf role models, recognition as Deaf individuals or encouragement in unique Deaf arts.

Community Information

Canadian Hard of Hearing Association (CHHA)

The Canadian Hard of Hearing Association is a consumer based organization formed by and for Canadians living with hearing loss. CHHA works cooperatively with professionals, service providers and government bodies, and provides information about hard of hearing issues and solutions.

CHHA's goal is to increase public awareness of hearing loss and to help Canadians with hearing loss fully integrate into Canadian society through branches and chapters across Canada. CHHA educates, spreads awareness, offers several services and works on improving the lives of people living with a hearing loss by removing communication barriers.

CHHA is pleased to announce that there is a scholarship program available both to French and English applicants. Candidates can only submit their application between September and March of each year.

The following scholarships are available:

CHHA/CHHAF Scholarship ($1,000)

Offered to any hard of hearing and deafen student registered in a full-time program at a recognized college or university, in any area of study, with the ultimate goal of obtaining a diploma or degree.

Frank Algar Memorial Scholarship ($1,000)

This Scholarship does not focus on any field of study; however, the advocacy level of the applicant is taken into account.

The Dr. Charles A. Laszlo Scholarship ($1,000)

This Scholarship requires that the applicant be enrolled in the second or higher year of study in the area of Science and Technology and Trades. In addition, the applicant must also display an interest in supporting activities to improve the lives of those who have a hearing loss.

Our Mission

Silent Voice serves Deaf adults, youth, children, and their families in an American Sign Language (ASL) environment. We are dedicated to improving communication and relationships between Deaf and hearing family members and Deaf and hearing members of the community. Silent Voice is an agency grounded in Catholic values offering services to the whole community. We value and respect the dignity and worth of all people.

Our Values

- American Sign Language as the primary language of communication in providing services to the Deaf community at Silent Voice.
- The right of individuals within the Deaf community to choose the communication method of their choice.
- Service to all people in need regardless of race, creed, disability, sexual orientation, family status, receipt of public assistance, level of literacy or any other personal characteristics.
- Those most in need given preference.
- The sanctity and dignity of human life.
- The role of family as central to the individual and to society.
- The role of community as central to the individual and to society.
